

Integrated FSR 2007 – a tool for the financial services industry

Financial services regulation in Chapter 7 of the Corporations Act can be very complex to navigate and compliance with its provisions requires knowledge of the numerous regulations and class orders that apply.

Developed for organisations involved in the development and distribution of financial services and products, Integrated FSR 2007 brings together the relevant provisions of Chapter 7, regulations, explanatory material, class orders and references to Treasury and ASIC material in a single, easy to use package.

Integrated FSR 2007 has been updated to include the latest changes made in the incorporation by reference regulations, the Corporations Amendment (Simpler Regulatory System) Act, draft regulations proposed in the Corporate and Financial Services Regulation Review released on 26 March 2007 and other changes such as the compensation arrangements regulations.

Integrated FSR 2007 has also been substantially upgraded by including the 'missing' parts of Chapter 7 – the financial markets provisions.

Integrated FSR is now available in three different editions:

- a full edition which adds the financial markets provisions to the Financial Services and Products edition;
- a Financial Services and Products edition which is an update of material previously covered by Integrated FSR – financial services licensing, obligations of licensees and product disclosure; and
- a new Financial Markets edition which covers licensing of markets and clearing and settlement facilities, compensation regimes and the provisions covering title and transfer.

All three editions include the market misconduct provisions and general definitions.

Each copy of the Financial Services and Products edition of Integrated FSR 2007 will be supplied with a stand alone electronic copy of the Financial Markets edition which may be used, free of charge, until 31/12/2008.
